Today's young people face an overwhelming number of adult decisions, choices that will ultimately affect their educational and professional futures. One of Vancouver's most respected post-secondary consultants, Melinda Giampietro has successfully guided countless students and families as they navigate the complex selection processes in Canada, the US, and abroad. This presentation will be particularly relevant to Grade 10, 11 and 12 students and their parents, but it is never too early to start the guiding process with your child.

(All proceeds from this evening's presentation go to support the West Vancouver Secondary PAC—Many thanks to Melinda Giampietro for the generous donation of her speaker's fee.)
